This year, some LLCE students have studied The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-Time by Mark Haddon.

You can read this original, funny and moving novel whose narrator is a teenage autistic on line :

Some students wrote an additional chapter from the point of view of another character. Here are some examples of their work.

Feel free to do the same and enter THE Writing Challenge ! You can send your texts to M^{me} Capuran, one of the English teachers at the lycée (via Atrium).
